

Energy Development Projects - CCG has worked with several of Colorado's Oil and Gas operators to prepare site specific grading plans, roadway designs, water storage facilities, and water supply lines. Additionally, CCG has prepared many Weld County Flood Hazard Development Permits for different operators wanting to locate facilities within a regulated floodplain. CCG has also worked on several site development plans for United Power, Inc., as they build new electrical substations within their service boundary.

